Our Big God Story today teaches us that God Blesses.
(Hold hands out, as wide as you can. Have children say: God Blesses!)

Activity

Take a moment to reflect on your day. Who has God uniquely used in your life to bless you? This week, spend some time in thanksgiving to God for providing these people in your life. Be intentional to look for opportunities to bless others.

SUPPLIES:

- Pictures of boys and girls with their families- including little boy, mommy, daddy and grandparent.

ENGAGE:

Toddlers love to look at photographs that show children. Sharing what they know about families helps them connect to today's Big God Story. Gather the kids in a circle.

Today in the Big God story, we learned about Ruth and her family. God loves families! Lay one picture at a time in the middle of the circle. Invite children to explore the pictures. Ask children questions as they explore each picture.

Who can find the little boy? The mommy? The daddy? The grandparents? They are part of a family. Who is part of your family? Encourage each child to share what they know about families. Today we learned about Ruth and her family. God Blesses. Thank you, God.
